SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

May. 2021 - Present

- Working as a full stack software developer writing efficient and scalable RESTful API's in PHP and responsive Vue components for the web app.
- Currently building a subscription tracking web app from the ground up.
- Designed an overall microservice architecture inside WordPress codebase that is responsible for handling any API request efficiently from the client-side. The company wanted this so badly to achieve single page application taste inside WordPress. So, I've made it possible to recognize Vue components inside WordPress and talk to them using RESTful APIs.
- Implemented several API microservices in PHP following MVC design pattern.
- Deployed the app on the AWS several times to test the app on production mode.
- Write documentation for the projects using docusaurus and write meaningful comments for each and every function, class, route, etc.
